

THE WAY

Kent Parker

Forgive and excuse me,
This might be my last scene.
Look ahead, no retreating.
Turn around to look, and turn to stone.

Falling down from the summit.
Gotta start what I can't quit.
Tried it once, now a habit.
Never learned to leave well enough alone.

Sneak around like a bandit.
Dark room, but it's well lit.
And I think I can see it.
Walk to the light, I'm getting warm.

Stop the clock, turn off the phone.
(Stop the clock, turn off the phone.)
Let it go, and go alone.
(Let it go, and go alone.)
Throw the old dog a bone...
(Throw the old dog a bone...)

Understood, I don't know why.
Come up short, but I still try.
Dark clouds in a gray sky.
Gotta find my way through the storm.

Sabatoged by a bad hook.
Missing page in a good book.
Final scene, but I don't look.
How it ends, that part is still unknown.

Forgive and excuse me,
Gonna shine in the last scene.
Figured out what was missing.
Gonna find my way back home.
