

EVEN IF

Kent Parker

Even if the sun hides behind the moon,
Even if the King has left the room,
Even if the fight is ours to lose,
I'll be with you.

If the Gospel Choir sings the blues,
If the hang man tightens up the noose,
If time stands still right at high noon,
I'll be with you.

I will... be with you.

The rain forest might lose every single tree,
The ozone in the sky might get set free,
Mt. Everest might wash into the sea,
Even so, I'll be.... with you

I will... be with you.
I will, I will... be with you.
Even if the sun hides behind the moon,
I'll be with you...
I'll be with you...

Even if the sun hides behind the moon...
I'll be with you...
I'll be with you...
